(OOO Note: Individual guards, and people in general may still ignore the existence of Man'ari within Stormwind City and other Alliance territories based on the current lore despite what this non-lore bound lawbook says, this must be respected at all times. The lawbook is however now opened for Man'ari to come to the Kingdom of Stormwind without being considered an hostile entity within these territories.)

There are however certain conditions to this to ensure the safety of the King's Subjects, these conditions are urged to be followed religiously to ensure unnecessary friction as well as bloodshed among the King's Subject as well as the Penitent Man'ari Eredar.

It is to note that the only people that should deal with Penitent Man'ari Eredar in any sort of capacity when it comes to applying the law would be any Law Enforcement Unit of either the Stormwind Guard or the Stormwind City Guard if within Stormwind City itself. Other organizations have no jurisdiction to apply the law.
